EDIFICE

An exploration of healthcare as a healing space for mind, body and soul.

The general psychology of people is to naturally incline towards certain kind of religious beliefs during times of stress and pain. Thus we aspire to develop a healing space for mind, body and soul by getting strongly inspired by the place of worship as we desire to create a space which is relatable, creates a strong sense of belonging, comforting and heals mind, space and body.

The courtyard also acts as a green lung for the site and provides visual and emotional respite for the patients, relatives and staff in the hospital.
